Each week you will hear from two featured artists about their passion for creative expression.

See the methods and tools used to achieve their goals as each host converses with these creators in their own space.

KEET-TV recognizes that Humboldt County is a mecca for artists, and after the first season of Studio Space, the requests

OBITUARY

Patricia Ann Welsh

Patricia Ann Welsh was born on Nov. 1, 1936 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania to Edward and Nan Maguire. She fondly remembered playing in her Germantown neighborhood streets and parks, walking to school, and spending summer holidays enjoying the family beach house in Cape Cod, N.J.

At 13 she met Jimmy Welsh. The two fell in love and dreamed of making a life on their own in the West, far from the city where they were raised. They had a fairytale wedding the year Patricia turned 19. They drove away from their wedding reception in a truck and trailer as they headed off to begin their new life in California.

Their song, Let the Rest of the World go By, includes the lyrics: We'll build a little nest, somewhere out in the west, and let the rest of the world go by.

That is exactly what they did. On June 30, 2021, they celebrated their 65 wedding anniversary. Our family grew up on their stories of adventures and mishaps and learned the value of undying love and loyalty from their example.

Jim and Pat have four children, 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Pat's legacy lives on in the thinking, practices and hobbies of them all: baking, gardening, games, knitting, crafting, quilting, creating and traveling. She was a first class baker who provided treats with no limits and spoiled her family with homemade bread for decades.

A dedicated knitter, crocheter and quilter, Mom gifted us many handmade works of art and heart. From afghans, purses, treasure bags, and quilts, to crocheted holiday ornaments, snowmen, and Christmas trees, her legacy will live on each time we wrap up in or decorate with her beautiful hand-crafts.

Pat never left any doubt that her highest priority and greatest joy came from her family and the homes she and Jim created as they raised their four children in a manner so divergent from the city childhood they had both experienced. They raised their children with the natural world at their doorstep. They raised kids who knew how to hunt, chop wood, build fires, feed baby cows and goats, collect eggs, hike mountains, and appreciate the gifts of a life being raised by a mother who always loved deeply and unconditionally. These priorities have become our basic family values and are shared across the generations.

Many of our most treasured family traditions are centered around Mom. Every summer we looked forward to berry picking and enjoying her fresh blackberry pies. In fall our family and friends gathered to pick apples and press gallons of cider. Mom loved keeping a careful tally of the day's work. Apples that fell off the trees prior to pressing day were lovingly prepared by Mom into applesauce, apple butter or one of Mom's delicious pies. Every Christmas Eve, Mom played the piano while family and friends gathered to sing carols. She practiced for weeks, doubted her skill, and sometimes had to start again, but that event will live on in our memories as one of the most beloved days of the year.

Early in their marriage, Pat worked as a secretary. She was a speed typist and excelled at shorthand, frustrating her children by writing Christmas lists they could not read. She returned to secretarial work at the HSU Nursing department and Humboldt Home Health once her children were raised. She was a philanthropist and a volunteer, serving as a leader for her local PTA, Girl Scouts, and Boy Scouts, supporting her children's sports teams, and serving as a Braille transcriber for many years, going on to become president of the local Braille association. She loved challenges and stayed on top of advances in tech, making a seamless transition from using manual Braille typewriters to a completely computerized system. Her greatest joy was brailleing books for children.

Pat suffered a massive heart attack in 2016 that left her winded when doing large tasks, but did not slow down her knitting projects or Sudoku challenges. The downtime allowed her to master her iPhone and opened new lines of communication with her farflung grandchildren. Every text from 'Mam' ended with several emojis... always including a heart, a musical note and often an 'LOL'.

Last summer saw a return of Mom's heart issues. In late November, she experienced two additional major heart attacks and had to be resuscitated both times. We thought, and the medical professionals believed, that our time together had come to an end. Miraculously, she recovered and returned home to enjoy six weeks of feeling better than she had in years. During this time she created one last bright pink afghan to welcome her newest great grandchild and practiced daily for the annual Christmas Eve caroling piano accompaniment. Most of our large and widespread family was able to visit with her during this period and lots of laughs and tears were shared as we knew we were living and loving on borrowed time.

On February 28, Mom's heart gave out. A hundred years would not have been enough, but we know her body was tired and she was ready to say goodbye. Nothing truly lessens the pain of losing her. We are forever grateful and in awe of our dad who, through sheer force of will and a lifetime of love, put everything else on hold to lovingly care for her at home. Throughout her life home has always been where she preferred to be and it is fitting and comforting that she was able to spend her last days in the place she loved best.

Pat is survived by the love of her life: her loving husband of 65 years, James Welsh. She leaves behind her four children and their spouses who Pat loved as if they were her own: Rosemarie and John Gloor (McKinleyville), Daniel and Amy Welsh (Citrus Heights), Chris and Deb Welsh (Knoxville, TN), and Phyllis and Tom Nolan (McKinleyville); her beloved grandchildren: Logan Gloor, Kelsey Iberti, Liza Welsh, Cathy Albert, Taylor LeBlanc, Rachel Voorhees, Jenny Welsh, Thomas Nolan, Emily Welsh, Corina Montgomery, Marisa Gloor, Ben Welsh, and Austin Nolan and her five great-grandchildren: Nick Cavallero, Wyatt Albert, Luca Iberti, Owen LeBlanc, and Jolene Albert. She is survived by her sister, JoAnn Reckner (Wisconsin), brother, John Maguire (Pennsylvania), and her sisters-in-law: Genevieve Bottoroff (Florida) and Margie Stiehl (New Jersey).

Our family would like to thank those who provided support for Mom and our family: Paulette Crowell, Denise Witte, Mad River Ambulance, Humboldt Hospice, St. Joseph's Family Practice, Dr. Tin Botzler and the Providence Medical Group Cardiology team, and the incredible nursing staffs of Mad River and St. Joseph's hospitals.

At her request, there will be no funeral services. A celebration of her life will be held this summer.

OBITUARY

Sue LaMarr Hashem

Even now, it is hard to believe that live wire Sue LaMarr Hashem is gone, although she passed suddenly on November 30, 2021. She did many things in her life with her inimitable Sue Hashem style, but most of all she brought a caring love to family and friends.

Born in Alexandria, Kentucky to Hazel and Elmer LaMarr in 1939, Sue was the youngest of three sisters born in quick succession. Life wasn't easy at the tail end of the Depression, but Elmer and Hazel kept food on the table with multiple jobs, a big garden, and clothes made with Hazel's deft sewing skills. They made the best of what life gave them and their little girls, who grew up in a close community where they had many friends and adventures.

Sue was on her way to getting a teaching credential at what's now Eastern Kentucky University, when one summer home she met a handsome guy teaching tennis on the Holmes High School tennis courts.

While she had had many suitors and had turned down multiple marriage proposals, Gene Hashem's gentle manner, unique humor and smarts when they met at that tennis court won her heart. In 1961 she married T. Eugene Hashem, taking on his 8 yr.-old-daughter Robin as her own and began her next series of adventures, including giving birth to Amy Harter Hashem, who was promptly renamed Susan because Sue didn't think she looked like an Amy.

In the coming years, Sue's dedication to children's education resulted in her having a lifetime career in education, starting with teaching first grade at Cold Springs Elementary School, becoming the first director of Westminster School of Nashville (at the time the first program in Nashville to offer classes for children with learning challenges or disabilities), moving to Humboldt County and serving as a reading specialist, program specialist and eventually becoming Principal Sue at Glen Paul Center for Exceptional Children in Eureka. Along the way, she mentored many and helped innumerable children get the best education possible, no matter their circumstances.

The outpouring of love and memories at her passing reminded family of the many dear friends Sue had made throughout her life, especially in Humboldt. Shared stories of help offered in times most needed, visits full of laughter, special treats and holiday parties, dates to the swimming pool followed by ice cream cones, plus multiple beloved trips to Italy and France filled with food and sightseeing and road trips to concerts at Britt.

The death of Sue's beloved Gene left her grieving in 2015. And now grieving Sue are daughters Susan Hashem (Reese Lamb) and Robin Hashem; grandchildren Claire, Aubrey and Henry; sisters Maxine Lampe and Kay Philips, special travel buddy Ray Alvarado and too many other family and friends across the country to be able to list individually. The family thanks you all for the special place you held in Sue's big heart.

There will be a private celebration of Sue's life on Derby Day, May 7, 2022. Those who wish to honor Sue's passing in some way can do so by making a child's life better, volunteering as a judge for the local science fair, rooting for the athletes at Special Olympics or singing your heart out like no one is listening while playing the piano. Dance at every opportunity and maybe watch basketball and root for her favorite Kentucky Wildcats.

lated matters until a fifth member is elected in June. After that, unless the new member also has a conflict of interest, the council will have four members who can handle GAP-related business.

Even-numbered bodies are vulnerable to tied votes, a situation which has doomed previous councils to decisionmaking gridlock.

According to the draft Gateway Area Plan (viewable at cityofarcata.org), the City Council will consider the plan's approval later this year. Appeals of projects that might be eventually proposed under the plan could also wind up being decided by the council.

The City of Arcata news release announcing the FPPC decision:

CITY OF ARCATA RECEIVES GUIDANCE FROM THE FAIR POLITICAL PRACTICES COMMISSION

Arcata, CA, April 1, 2022 – The City of Arcata receives guidance from the Fair Political Practices Commission regarding Mayor Atkins-Salazar financial conflict of interest.

The City of Arcata has received a determination from the Fair Political Practices Commission that confirms Mayor Stacy Atkins-Salazar has a conflict of interest in making decisions on the Gateway Area Plan because she owns both a primary residence and business within 500 feet of the Gateway Area Boundary.

The City of Arcata has initiated a planning process focused on residential and mixed-use development within a specific region of the City approximately 138 acres in size, known as the "Gateway Area." It implements a measure in the City's General Plan Housing Element to allow for residential infill development in an area that was historically used for mixed and industrial purposes, and will result in the City Council's adoption of an "area plan," to be called the "Gateway Area Plan." This planning effort was first initiated in late 2019 when the City Council adopted the City's current Housing Element of its General Plan that included a specific measure mandating creation of the "Arcata Gateway Specific Area Plan, which will include [a] form-based code that allows high density infill development."

Below is the conclusion from the Fair Political Practices Commission.

QUESTION

Does Mayor Stacy Atkins-Salazar have a conflict of interest which would prohibit her from participating in the City Council decision concerning the Gateway Area Plan?

CONCLUSION

The Act prohibits Mayor Atkins-Salazar from taking part in decisions relating to the Gateway Area Plan because it is reasonably foreseeable that those decisions would have a disqualifying material effect on her business's interest in its real property, located across the street from the Gateway Area Plan boundary.

On this decision, Mayor Atkins-Salazar said, "I am disappointed that I will not be able to participate in the Gateway Area Plan as a decision maker, however, I understand why the FPPC ruled the way it did. The Gateway Area Plan is an important planning process that will have lasting effects on our town and it is important that it be done correctly, including avoiding legal issues such as conflicts of interest."

Additional background

Sections 87100 and 87103 of the Act prohibit a public official from making, participating in making, or in any way attempting to use his or her official position to influence a governmental decision if it is reasonably foreseeable that the decision would have a material financial effect on one or more of the official's financial interests distinguishable from the decision's effect on the public generally.

Mayor Atkins-Salazar and her husband own real property located outside and across the street from the Gateway Area project boundary, within 500 feet of the Gateway Area boundary. She lives at this location where she additionally owns and operates a dance studio business as a sole proprietor.

New CRV buyback center opens on South G Street

MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA – Hambro Recycling was doing a bustling business Saturday morning, with cars, trucks and even bicycles loaded with bags of bottles and cans lined up around its building, a former truck repair shop at 420 South G St.

In the works since late July of last year, the facility had to navigate city and coastal zone regulations to open up.

General Manager Randy Scott oversaw the busy enterprise, as vehicles disgorged their pent-up recyclables with the help of day-glo vested employees.

“They’ve been waiting for this for a long time,” he said. “It’s been over two years since there was a buy-back in Humboldt County.”

BUSY ON SOUTH G Randy Scott of Hambro Recycling at the new South G Street CRV buyback center.

While a dozen workers were kept busy initially, the business will employ around eight people once things settle out.

You can help speed that process by not slowing the line. “The big thing is, come separated and sorted,” he said.

Hambro is open Wednesday through Saturday, 9 to 5 p.m. hambrocrvbuyback.com

How to do infill right

COALITION FOR RESPONSIBLE TRANSPORTATION PRIORITIES (CRTP)

HUMBOLDT — Dan Zack, AICP, CNU-A, founder and principal planner of Zack Urban Solutions, will present a virtual talk for North Coast audiences Thursday, April 7 at 6 p.m., titled “Principles of Good Infill Development.” Infill development is the practice of constructing new buildings and infrastructure in already developed areas, rather than converting wild or working lands. Prominent local examples of infill development in the planning stages include the Arcata Gateway Area Plan, the McKinleyville Town Center, and the Earth Center and Linc Housing projects in Eureka.

The talk will be based on Dan Zack’s extensive experience as a planner in a variety of settings throughout California. Zack has served as the assistant director of planning and development for the City of Fresno and the downtown development director for Redwood City, among other positions. He specializes in creating thriving, walkable places that meet the needs of local communities.

This event is sponsored by the Coalition for Responsible Transportation Priorities (CRTP) and will be held virtually on Zoom.

CRTP encourages any interested North Coast residents to attend — especially local planning commissioners and elected officials. The talk will be of particular interest to people working on or interested in the ongoing planning efforts in Eureka, Arcata and McKinleyville. There will be an opportunity to ask questions after the presentation.

The event is free and open to the public. People can register to receive the Zoom link at transportationpriorities.org or at us06web.zoom.us/joining/register/tZMldemtqD4qG9AatdBvTdvbyy3la3EoI8HO.

MARSH TOUR Friends of the Arcata Marsh (FOAM) is sponsoring a free tour of the Arcata Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary on Saturday, April 9. Meet leader Katy Allen at 2 p.m. in the lobby of the Interpretive Center on South G Street for a 90-minute, rain-or-shine walk focusing on the plants, birds, history, and/or ecology of the marsh. ## Meet the MCSD: David Baldosser grew up in McK

Joellen Clark-Peterson
SPECIAL TO THE UNION
MCKINLEYVILLE — This week's Meet the MCSD profiles David Baldosser, customer service supervisor, recently recognized for 25 years of service to the district.

What have you learned over the years of working at the MCSD?

A running toilet uses a lot of water. That is one of the biggest, sneaky causes of increased water use.

How long has your family lived in McKinleyville?

I presume [I'm] fourth generation? My grandfather, Grant Ramey, was one of the founding board members for MCSD.

What have you heard about "how things used to be" in McKinleyville?

Before the sanitary sewer system was installed, there were open ditches alongside Central Avenue that may have been the recipient of some of the fallout from the failing septic systems. It made for some interesting odors.

What are some of your memories of activities as a kid growing up here?

We would go to the aquarium at King Salmon, hike around Azalea Reserve, attend the Pony Express Days, walk from the elementary school (now the middle school) to home at the end of Sutter. Between Stanton's Barn (now Niveen's) and Circle K (now Chevron) there was very little in the way of development. Things have changed a bit.

You're known for your jokes and puns – could you share one?

One? Do you know why elephants wear red tennis shoes? So they can hide in cherry trees.... Have you ever seen an elephant in a cherry tree? (no is the normal response) Works, doesn't it? Do you know why Fred Astaire would refuse to do multiple takes of various scenes in his movies? He was adverse to the re-done dance.

Where is your favorite place to take visitors?

The Trinidad Beach and pier.

How do you spend your free time?

My best and most favorite thing is to spend time with my wife, Audrey. Doing puzzles, riding bicycles, not necessarily at the same time are other things I enjoy.

What's on your bucket list?

I don't have a specific list; I do my best to enjoy each day.

South Spit restrictions

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT
SOUTH SPIT – Facilities and beach access managed by the Bureau of Land Management at the Mike Thompson Wildlife Area, South Spit Humboldt Bay, are temporarily closed for public safety while repairs are underway on the south jetty. The project, being undertaken by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, is continuing after being initiated last year. Work is expected to continue until Oct. 1. The project will stabilize the jetty and prevent further degradation from storm surges and severe wave activity. Heavy construction equipment will move large rocks and materials across BLM-managed public lands to access the jetty. Despite the temporary closure, there are still many opportunities for public access to the beach and wave slope using designated vehicle access corridors on the South Spit. Vehicles are allowed off-road on these corridors and the wave slope only. Vehicles are not allowed in the dunes. “While driving or walking on the wave slope, we ask everyone to be cautious not to disturb nesting western snowy plovers,” said BLM Northern California District Manager Dereck Wilson. “It is important to stay on designated corridors and keep dogs on leash at all times on the west side of South Jetty Road.” Western snowy plovers are small shorebirds that build nests in the sand from March into September. # Madrone racks up endorsements from past and present electeds

STEVE MADRONE CAMPAIGN
HUMBOLDT –Fifth District Supervisor Steve Madrone announced endorsements from several current and former elected officials who represent the people of the Fifth District and Humboldt County at the local, state and federal levels.

Supporters include Congressman Jared Huffman, Senate Majority Leader Mike McGuire, State Assemblyman Jim Wood, former State Senator Wesley Chesbro, former Humboldt County Supervisors Julie Fulkerson, Bonnie Neely and John Woolley, Trinidad Councilmember and Mayor, Steve Ladwig, Fifth District Harbor Commissioner Patrick Higgins and Fourth District Harbor Commissioner Richard Marks.

“I’m running for re-election to continue working for a vibrant, safe and healthy community that benefits all of us. I’ve created partnerships with elected leaders in the region, and at the state and federal levels, because that’s what it takes to get results. The support from so many current and former elected officials means a lot to me, and I’m excited about the projects we will collaborate on in the near future, such as the Great Redwood Trail, the restoration of the estuary of Redwood Creek, and achieving health care for all,” said Madrone.

Steve Madrone

“Humboldt County needs Steve Madrone’s leadership. He’s a thoughtful and effective Supervisor and I’m proud to endorse him for re-election.” said Congressman Jared Huffman, who has represented the 2nd Assembly District including the North Coast since 2012. “I’m grateful to have Steve Madrone on the Humboldt County Board of Supervisors. He brings such a connection to the natural resource issues that are critical to the North Coast economy and way of life. He’s a policy wonk, a fish head and someone I can reach out to and partner with on a whole bunch of great projects like the incredible opportunity we have to restore the estuary of Redwood Creek, which is happening in part due to Steve’s leadership.”

“Steve fights everyday for Humboldt County and the North Coast. He’s a bridge builder, always puts people above politics and is a champion for working families,” said Senate Majority Leader Mike McGuire, representing the North Coast in the State Senate since 2014. “I have been honored to work with Steve to tackle our communities’ toughest issues including expanding health care and tackling the homelessness crisis by building new units with wrap around mental health services. And, I am so appreciative of Steve’s leadership to get the Great Redwood Trail done.”

“I’ve known Steve for a very long time and he is a deeply committed and very effective advocate for his community. With all the new economic development and clean energy projects on the horizon, we need someone with Steve’s deep knowledge and experience to help make sure these projects are compatible with our community’s interests and values,” said McKinleyville resident Wesley Chesbro, a former County Supervisor and State Senator who represented the North Coast in the California Legislature for twelve years.

Trinidad City Councilmember and Mayor Steve Ladwig said, “The City of Trinidad is fortunate to have Mr. Madrone as the Supervisor for District 5. Steve is thoughtful in his decisions regarding residents in the Trinidad/ Westhaven area and is a willing partner in our needs where they intersect with the County. His experience and his interest in learning his constituents’ perspectives make him the right choice for 5th District Supervisor.”

“These are challenging times for our region, county and district, but we are a resilient community and there are some great opportunities coming to us. I know that, by working together, we can address the real issues we face and build a safe, vibrant and healthy community that benefits all of us,” said Madrone.

Wily scammers have all kinds of tricks, but you can defeat them

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
HUMBOLDT – The Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office has received numerous reports March 28 of a phone scam targeting our community, with the scammer claiming to be a Sheriff’s Office Sergeant.

As part of this scam, the caller claims they are from the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office and may identify as current and/or former employees.

The scammer tells the victim that he is with the “Citations and Warrants Division” of our office and claims the victim has a warrant for their arrest.

The scammer uses fear of being jailed to elicit personal information and money from the victim. Some victims even report the scam to have spoofed the HCSO’s phone number – (707) 445-7251 – with their caller ID identifying the caller as our office.

The Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office would like the community to know that this is a scam.

While law enforcement may contact you regarding a warrant or investigation, we will never demand payment in exchange for dropping a warrant or stopping an investigation, nor will we encourage you to seek a bail bond to avoid being booked into our correctional facility.

Additionally, no government agency will ask you to mail large sums of cash or pay with gift cards.

Remember these tips to help protect yourself from fraud:

- Spot imposters
Scammers often pretend to be someone you trust, like a government official, a family member, a charity or a company with which you do business. Don’t send money or give out personal information in response to an unexpected request – whether it comes as a text, a phone call or an email.
- Do online searches
Type a company or product name into your favorite search engine with words like “review,” “complaint” or “scam.” Or search for a phrase that describes your situation, like “IRS call.” You can even search for phone numbers to see if other people have reported them as scams.
- Don’t believe your caller ID
Technology makes it easy for

- scammers to fake caller ID information, so the name and number you see aren’t always real. If someone calls asking for money or personal information, hang up. If you think the caller might be telling the truth, call back to a number you know is genuine.
- Talk to someone
Before you give up your money or personal information, talk to someone you trust. Con artists want you to make decisions in a hurry. They might even threaten you. Slow down, check out the story, do an online search, consult an expert – or just tell a friend.
- Don’t rely on personal information
Living in the digital age, access to information is easier than ever. Scammers are often able to - get their hands on very personal information, providing it to their victims to make their scam look more legitimate.

- Don’t trust a scammer who is able to provide your personal information. If you followed the above tips and still aren’t sure, call back at a publicly listed number for the organization from which the scammer claims to be or contact your loved one directly.
- Sign up for the Federal Trade Commission’s scam alerts at ftc.gov/scams.
- Visit usa.gov/stop-scams-frauds#item-35157 to learn how to report scams.
- Visit humboldt.gov.org/2864/Scam-Information to learn more about some of the common scams reported to the HCSO.

McK traffic stop ends in drug, ammo arrest

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
MCKINLEYVILLE – On Sunday, March 27 at about 9:11 p.m., Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies on patrol on the 1800 block of Central Avenue in McKinleyville conducted a traffic stop for a vehicle code violation.

While speaking with the driver of the vehicle, 32-year-old Daniel Alan Byrd Jr., the deputy observed an open bag of approximately two pounds of cannabis underneath the driver’s seat of the vehicle. Deputies detained Byrd and conducted a search of the vehicle for any additional prohibited substances. During the search of the vehicle, deputies located multiple ammunition rounds.

Byrd was arrested and booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of possession of cannabis, felon in possession of ammunition and possession of cannabis while driving.

Stolen vehicle arrest

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
EUREKA – On Monday, March 28 at about 11:45 a.m., Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies were dispatched to a residence on the 7100 block of Humboldt Hill Road near Eureka for the report of a possible residential burglary.

Deputies arrived at the residence and learned that multiple unknown suspects were reportedly observed accessing the home without the owner’s permission. The suspects reportedly stole numerous items of value, including a vehicle which had been parked at the home.

Later that evening, at approximately 5:58 p.m., a sheriff’s deputy on patrol in the Eureka area observed the stolen vehicle traveling on Broadway. Deputies conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle and detained two occupants, 33-year-old Anthony David Maillelle and an adult female.

The female was determined to be uninvolved and was released at the scene pending further investigation.

This case is still under investigation. Anyone with information about this case or additional involved suspects should contact HCSO at (707) 445-7251 or the Sheriff’s Office Crime Tip line at (707) 268-2539.

A tangled web of drugs, deceit, fake ID & 911 call

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
BLUE LAKE – On Tuesday, March 29, at about 2:37 a.m., a Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputy on patrol in the Blue Lake area conducted a routine traffic stop for a vehicle code violation.

The deputy contacted four occupants inside the vehicle and observed drug paraphernalia in plain view.

Additionally, one passenger of the vehicle, who later was identified as 26-year-old Maxwell Thomas Elliott after providing deputies with a false name, was found to have a warrant for his arrest. Elliott and a passenger of the vehicle were both found to be on probation with a search clause.

Due to the presence of drug paraphernalia and the probation terms, a search of the vehicle was initiated.

During a search of the vehicle, deputies located approximately 79 grams of methamphetamine and various drug paraphernalia belonging to Elliott.

While conducting their investigation, deputies were informed that a passenger of the vehicle, 20-year-old Lynzee Aurora Strange, had contacted the Sheriff’s Emergency Communications Center in an attempt to divert deputies from the traffic stop.

Strange was detained and searched incident to arrest. During a search of Strange, deputies located over 5 grams of suspected fentanyl and drug paraphernalia.

Strange was arrested and booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of possession of a narcotic controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance paraphernalia, obstruction of justice and misuse of 911.

Elliott was arrested and booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of transportation/sale of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance for sales, false identification to a peace officer and violation of probation, in addition to a warrant for Post Release Community Supervision revocation.

The driver of the vehicle, 40-year-old Keara Leighanne Loudon, was cited and released on charges of driving an unregistered vehicle and failure to maintain lighting equipment.

The fourth passenger of the vehicle was released at the scene.

Anyone with information about this case or related criminal activity is encouraged to call the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office at (707) 445-7251 or the Sheriff’s Office Crime Tip line at (707) 268-2539.

Laughs and more

Today, I was so glad to see the Klopp Lake Hospital Ship launching — while still chortling from the previous week's focus on hilarity in Sr. News — that I could not stop laughing. I've sent in my subscription renewal, and amended my Estate Plan so that my heirs never fail to get their weekly Mad River Union chuckles in the midst of "all the news that's fit to print" in and around the Redwood Curtain. Seriously, thanks for the excellent and balanced coverage of our community's news.

Glassbreakers: mission accomplished

Open letter to the truly marvelous glass breakers of Valley East. Congratulations. You're real winners doing yourselves proud having fun, fun, fun! Think of the grand accomplishment of making a 72-year-old woman who could have been practicing her music, studying history, working on her art or baking a cake clean up after you. Grand, truly grand. Not only that, you flattened the tire on the bicycle which is her only transportation

Gateway or sprawl – choose wisely

I am writing in support of the projects now being considered by local governments to create more dense, taller, walkable housing: the Arcata Gateway Area Plan, development in Eureka's downtown parking lots, and the proposed McKinleyville town center. A 2009 Health Impact Assessment of options under consideration by the Humboldt General Plan Update overwhelmingly supported higher density infill development compared to unrestricted growth in the more rural areas of the county. humanimpact.org/wp-content/uploads/2017/09/HIA-Case-Study.pdf The Health Impact Assessment showed that the overwhelming number of 35 health indicators would be improved with infill development. The list of indicators improved includes: money spent by households on transportation, total vehicle miles traveled, time driving to work (with the corollary of less time for leisure activities, exercise and family), scores on an isolation index, access to parks and essential services, housing affordability, and percentage of children living close to schools.

The alternative to infill is sprawl. Let's face it. With the expansion of Cal Poly Humboldt and other new businesses our population is growing. If we do not accommodate more people in our towns, more people will build and live in green spaces and wild and working lands. People who live outside of town do not stay there. They drive to town for work, school and shopping and ultimately could create Santa Rosa-like traffic snarls in Humboldt and even more parking problems. While the developments under consideration in Eureka, Arcata and McKinleyville have some people concerned about the impact of population growth, it is more appropriate to accept that the population is growing and support the healthier alternatives.

Steamrolled at McKMAC

Mr. Ford, I did not appreciate the tone you took with me this evening at the McKMAC meeting. I am a member of this community. You basically told me to leave this to the "experts that have been working on this for years." I have been involved in the past, and I crawl out of the woodwork when I have something to say. What good is a public comment period if you steam roll people that don't see things the way you do? Maybe that's why nobody attends these meetings anymore. I respect your experience, and ask that you respect my perspective as a community member that genuinely cares about the town I live in. All I want is the best for the community. We just see things differently. I kindly apologize for my tone if I was offensive. I am learning how to engaging in public meetings. I believe you could apologize to me and Kelley as well for your rude and dismissive tone. Perhaps you all could go over "Rosenberg's Rules of Order" for the community so we can all learn to engage in difficult conversations together in a peaceful and constructive way. Thank you for your public service, Evan Schwartz Owner: Craft Beer Distribution Company Former Owner: McKinleyville Central Market

Hi Mr. Schwartz: I have reflected on last night and I do apologize for my approach with you. It was highly inappropriate for me as a staff person to respond as I was not facilitating or chairing the meeting. If I came across as dismissive, I apologize for that as well. I absolutely believe in the public process and want everybody to effectively participate. Last night I offered to sit down with you and explain what had been done relative to wetlands and what still needs to be done. That offer still stands. You are not required to agree with what has been done or like what has been done but understanding the story often helps in entering the public dialog. If you took from anything I said as suggesting you should "leave it to the experts," that was never my thought. This is a public process not a panel of experts making decisions. For what it is worth, I also live in McKinleyville and care deeply about the community, the people and particularly the people who so freely give themselves to continue to make McKinleyville a desirable place. I pray that you will accept my apology, forgive my transgression, and accept my offer to meet and discuss some of the history of the process and next steps.

Sincerely,
John H. Ford

Springtime brings a slew of fresh events and opportunities

Spring is here and CUNA (Comunidad Unida del Norte de Arcata/Community United of North Arcata) is in full swing planning events for the coming three months.

Block party!

Currently CUNA is organizing a Disaster Preparedness Block Party and Potluck. It will be held at Valley West's Carlson Park, located at Mad River Parkway off Giuntoli Lane on Saturday, April 23 from 11 to 3 p.m., and don't forget to bring your potluck! The focus is to get to know our neighbors, and talk about emergency preparedness and community resilience, in the worst drought year on record, well ahead of fire season. We want to help foster connections between the neighborhood, emergency services, and volunteer organizations, so that we all can feel safer and more prepared to help each other and ourselves. This kind of mutual aid is important to supplement the government's efforts in a future of increasing climate fueled disasters.

In addition to disaster preparedness presenter we will have food, music, and fun for the entire family. The Arcata Fire District will be there and will be bringing a fire truck. Dawn Albrecht, aka "Disaster Dawn, from the Tri County Independent Living Center (TCILC) will be presenting/ tabling as well as many other government and non-government organizations. Block Parties are the best way to advance groups during a disaster and recovery. They help make meaningful relationships and create social cohesion and connectivity. Block parties of this type help identify vulnerable neighbors in the community. Community is essential when negotiating in a disaster or recovery. Studies show people perish when not part of the community.

CUNA's work continues

The Valley West community is distanced from City resources and has a growing population of underserved community members, including Hispanic/Latinx and houseless residents. CUNA is working with the underserved community of Valley West/North Arcata to identify needs and to assist the community to mobilize and begin to organize to build a better represented and resilient Valley West community. CUNA is currently conducting a PG&E feasibility study for a resilient hub/community resource center in Valley West/North Arcata. We are doing this Block Party and Potluck event as part of our outreach to the community to address disaster preparedness and community resilience.

Through outreach and community feedback using a Participatory Action Research (PAR) model utilizing a community driven design approach and using tools such as empathy interviews we have identified that a resilient hub/resource center is a pressing need for the community. In particular, with two supported Homeless Housing HomeKey projects coming, it is even more essential.

A community working group is already under way and will ensure that the development of this resource center will be community-led. Much of the assessment we do will be centered around determining how to translate the needs expressed by the community into a physical space that can fill those needs, while also functioning as a hub in times of disaster. We have an established relationship with the City of Arcata and our local disaster response organizations and will be collaborating with them throughout the process.

The Disaster Response and Community Resiliency working group from Cooperation Humboldt analyzed the Valley West community for disaster resiliency and found that it is vulnerable in the following ways: there are a high number of vulnerable residents as discussed below; residents often must travel to seek health, social, and municipal services which are used as evacuation points, information hubs, and places to obtain power and supplies during times of disaster; many residents in this area lack an independent means of transportation and will have difficulty traveling in times of disaster; the area is in a flood zone, is in an earthquake-prone area, and is subject to power outages due to wind and winter storms.

Needs determined

- Following the vulnerability assessment, the following needs were identified:
- (1) Services for vulnerable community members, including culturally appropriate resources that address needs in times of disaster
  - (2) An accessible building that serves as a resource hub and gathering place during a disaster, and has the capacity to store emergency supplies
  - (3) A source of backup power
  - (4) A backup source of potable water, and/or a water purification system
  - (5) Public restrooms, ideally with showers
  - (6) A free food pantry and/ or space for residents to grow food.

We will use this Disaster Preparedness Block Party and Potluck as an opportunity to gather more empathy interviews for the PG&E Resilient Hub feasibility study. The Hub during times of non-disaster will operate as a community resource center year round. If residents want to participate in the feasibility study, but can't make it to the blockparty, we will also offer an online survey. Both residents and non residents of Valley West/North Arcata are welcome to attend.

Tianguis planned

But wait, there is more, CUNA is planning a tianguis (a Latinx style flea market) on Saturday, May 14 also at Valley West's Carlson Park at the Mad River Parkway off Giuntoli Lane. We are looking for artists, artisans, craftors and more. Other events and activities sponsored by CUNA in partnership with the City of Arcata include a bike rodeo, a monthly teen meet up, and weekend classes in dance and theater. If your organization is interested in joining us in creating community resiliency and disaster preparedness we invite you to come table and share your knowledge, show off your equipment, and interact with the community.

If you are interested in tabling or being a vendor for our upcoming Tianguis Latinx style flea market contact CUNA. For more information and how to get involved email cuna@cooperationhumboldt@gmail.com or call (707) 633-3867 and don't forget to bring your potluck! BARN OWLS & GRAPES Join Redwood Region Audubon Society online Friday, April 8, at 7 p.m. for “Barn Owls and Winegrape Vineyard Relations” with Matt Johnson. Can barn owls and farmers mutually benefit each other? Matt Johnson will speak about the research he and his graduate students have been conducting with barn owls on winegrape vineyards in California, tracing the lab’s work to better understand a reciprocal relationship between farmers and owls. Specifically, he’ll summarize how farmers can use nest boxes to attract owls to their land, how many rodents the owls kill and where they hunt, and how this relationship may also be good for owls. Matt is a professor of Wildlife Habitat Ecology at Cal Poly Humboldt, where he has taught since 1999. Before coming to Humboldt, Matt grew up in the Central Valley of California, earned a BS in Wildlife at UC Davis and PhD in Ecology from Tulane University. He leads several graduate students at a time on a study of barn owls in winegrape vineyards, along with undergraduate assistants. His goal as an educator is to help students not only learn the skills necessary to become accomplished biologists, but also to foster an appreciation for how good land management practices can benefit both people and nature. Visit rras.org to obtain the Zoom presentation link.

Two joyous boys, Balto and Spot

Who doesn't love a dog named Spot? Our boy Spot at the shelter is just what you would expect – a friendly, medium-sized dog, white with black patches over his eyes!
Spot is an easy dog to like. He is sociable with both humans and dogs. He plays a pretty good game of fetch but is not obsessed with the ball. Spot enjoys his walks with the volunteers and seems happy to go wherever they want.

His heritage is a mystery; he could have a little lab or a little cattle dog or something completely different. Whatever his make-up, Spot is a great candidate for a family dog or an adventure com-

Spot is estimated to be about five years old. He weighs in at 46 pounds. Spot may be a candidate for a home with cats.
Another nice boy at the shelter is Balto. Balto is estimated to be a three-year-old Dutch Shepherd.

Volunteers comment on Balto's nice leash manners and affectionate nature. Balto knows Sit, Down, and Shake. He likes a chance to stretch his legs in the yard and enjoys checking out the toys and balls but also enjoys coming over for pets.
Balto would be very happy to have his own person that could take him on adventures and car rides and let him be a part of their life! Balto weighs in at about 60 pounds and seems to be fine with other dogs.
Both Spot and Balto are neutered, micro-chipped and current on their vaccinations. They are out of the puppy stage and are well housebroken.
To meet either of these nice boys, please call the Humboldt County Animal Shelter at (707) 840-9132. The shelter is open Monday through Friday.
